★ BRICE DELLSPERGER

This Paris-based artist, whose "Body Double" wall projections deal with cinematic dissection and gender confusion, keeps the background of a David Lynch sequence but excises the original cast. He remakes an entire '70s film with a single actor. Or he stalks himself in a remake of Brian De Palma's famous museum scene from Dressed to Kill. Team, 527 W 26th, 279-9219, through 3/16.
